

WILLOW CANYON 1ST WARD

BISHOPRIC MESSAGE

Summer is always such a fun and exciting time. Time together with our family and friends allow us to be closer and create bonds of lasting memories and togetherness. As August rolls around we seem to become ready for the back-to-school grind and getting life back to a normal pattern once again. As we prepare our children and ourselves to face a new school year, let's take a close look at our standards. Do we dress modestly and is our appearance in harmony with the spirit of the Lord?

In the new gospel reference book "True To the Faith", recently given to each of our youth by Bishop Nydegger, the following direction is given by the First Presidency:

"Prophets have always counseled us to dress modestly. This counsel is founded on the truth that the human body is God's sacred creation. Respect your body as a gift from God. Through your dress and appearance, you can show the Lord that you know how precious your body is.

Your clothing expresses who you are. It sends messages about you, and it influences the way you and others act. When you are well groomed and modestly dressed, you can invite the companionship of the spirit and exercise a good influence on those around you."

The words of the living prophets are clear regarding our duty to strengthen our families spiritually. Husbands and wives have a solemn responsibility to love and care for each other and their children. Parents have a sacred duty to rear their children in love and righteousness, to provide for their physical and spiritual needs, to teach them to love and serve one another, and to be modest and observe the commandments of God.

As parents, let's devote our best efforts to teaching and rearing our children in gospel principles, which will keep them pure and clean and close to the Church.

Sincerely your Bishopric

FOLLOW THE PROPHETS

EZRA TAFT BENSON The question may arise in one's mind, why should I spend time in searching out my ancestors: How can they contribute anything to me? Why should I evidence more than passing interest in their welfare: We are largely a product of our progenitors, their strength sustains us, their weaknesses, if any, warn us of traits and tendencies to curb and avoid. Their love and devotion bring to fulfillment the Savior's great law of love with combined loved ones and families joyfully together in time and throughout eternity. We owe them much more than we can ever repay. A noble heritage has always been regarded as one of life's greatest treasures.

RELIEF SOCIETY

We had a wonderful time Enrichment in June. We had many people who made Enrichment great. Thank you to Gina Messerly who taught the hands-on Bread Making Class. Thank you to Joel Weight for teaching the Computer Skills Class. Thank you to Rhonda Neiswender for teaching us to crochet the bags for Welfare Square. Thank you Marilyn Crapo and Nancy Williams for our Yummy refreshments!

Adult Neighborhood Social on Wednesday, August 25th at 6:30 p.m. in the Fairclough's Backyard. All adults 18 year or older invited. Bring your neighbors for dinner, music by "The Boomers", and good company.

We will miss Barbara Pasker as a teacher. We all enjoyed her lessons, the time she put into preparing them and the spirit brought to our meetings.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Raymond & Mary Bye celebrated their 60th Wedding Anniversary last month. Their family all went to the temple then to Mimi's Restaurant for dinner. The family presented them with a wonderful program. Congratulations Ray & Mary. You are a wonderful couple and a great example for the ward members. We hope you have many more years of happiness together. You are very fortunate.
