October 2021 – Follow the Prophets

As we had the opportunity to listen this past weekend to living prophets and apostles, it is indeed a blessing to be able to hear what a loving Heavenly Father wants us to hear in these latter days. As President Russell M. Nelson taught us in his opening remarks, “Please make this conference a time of feasting on messages from the Lord through His servants. Learn how to apply them in your life.” As we reflect on what we were able to hear, remember what the Holy Ghost taught us. Remember the impressions we had and savor the messages we heard. We were able to receive pure truth, the pure doctrine of Christ, and pure revelation. Here are some of the teachings we were able to receive from the Lord’s Apostles and Prophet:

“There has never been a time in the history of the world when knowledge of our Savior is more personally vital and relevant to every human soul. It is now time that we each implement extraordinary measures — perhaps measures we have never taken before — to strengthen our personal spiritual foundations. Unprecedented times call for unprecedented measures. Please believe me when I say that when your spiritual foundation is built solidly upon Jesus Christ, you have no need to fear.” — President Russell M. Nelson

“Despite the good works that can be accomplished without a church, the fullness of doctrine and its saving and exalting ordinances are available only in the restored Church. In addition, Church attendance gives us the strength and enhancement of faith that comes from associating with other believers and worshipping together with those who are also striving to stay on the covenant path and be better disciples of Christ.” — President Dallin H. Oaks

“If your faith in Jesus Christ has led to a heart softened through the effects of His Atonement, you will be more able to feel the whisperings of the Spirit in answer to your prayers. With sufficient faith, we will ask for direction with the intent to go and do whatever [the Lord] asks.” — President Henry B. Eyring

“How would we answer the question ‘Lovest thou me more than these?’ When we discover a fuller meaning of this question, we can become better family members, neighbors, citizens, members of the Church and sons and daughters of God.” — President M. Russell Ballard

“If we love God enough to try to be fully faithful to Him, He will give us the ability, the capacity, the will and the way to love our neighbor and ourselves. I pray we will succeed where that rich young man failed, that we will take up the cross of Christ however demanding it may be regardless of the issue and regardless of the cost.” — Elder Jeffrey R. Holland

“We can navigate our way through the darkness and trials of this life and find our way back to our loving Heavenly Father if we seek and accept the landmarks He has provided, embrace personal revelation and strive for daily restoration.” — Elder Dieter F. Uchtdorf

“We take the Savior’s yoke upon us as we learn about, worthily receive and honor sacred covenants and ordinances. We are bound securely to and with the Savior as we faithfully remember and do our best to live in accordance with the obligations we have accepted.” — Elder David A. Bednar

“Letting go of pride and control and choosing the Savior would allow us to have His light and His peace. Love and kindness are at the center of having Zion in our hearts and homes.” — Elder Quentin L. Cook

“Would it not be a worthy aspiration to live so that God can love us not just in spite of our failings but also because of what we are becoming?” — Elder D. Todd Christofferson

“I am an eyewitness to the power of heaven that rests upon our beloved prophet, President Russell M. Nelson. His most sincere desire is to please the Lord and bless our Heavenly Father’s children.” — Elder Neil L. Andersen

“When we are heavy-laden with mistakes, heartaches, feelings of inadequacy, disappointment, anger or sin, the power of the Savior’s Atonement is, by divine design, one of the things that lifts the soul.” — Elder Ronald A. Rasband

“To receive eternal life, we must come unto Christ, and be perfected in Him. As we come unto Christ, and help others do the same, we participate in God’s work of salvation and exaltation, which focuses on divinely appointed responsibilities. These responsibilities include Living the gospel of Jesus Christ, Caring for those in need, Inviting all to receive the gospel, and Uniting families for eternity.” — Elder Gary E. Stevenson

“My invitation is to be valiant in putting our love of God and discipleship of the Savior above all other considerations. Let us uphold the covenant inherent in our discipleship — the covenant to be one. I testify that as we shun contention and become ‘like-minded with the Lord in love and united with Him in faith,’ His peace will be ours.” — Elder Dale G. Renlund

“Trust becomes real when do hard things with faith. Please look again for faith and trust — a miracle He promises you today.” — Elder Gerritt W. Gong

“The compassionate attitude of Jesus is rooted in charity, namely in His pure and perfect love, which is the essence of His atoning sacrifice. Compassion is a fundamental characteristic of those who strive for sanctification, and this divine quality intertwines with other Christian traits, such as mourning with those who mourn and having empathy, mercy and kindness. Perhaps it would be better if we sit at Jesus’ feet and plead for mercy for our own imperfections and not spend so much time and energy fixating on the perceived imperfections of others.” — Elder Ulisses Soares

These are just some of the gospel truths we were taught this past weekend. We encourage you to rewatch, reread, and ponder the messages often we received during General Conference. Focus on the Savior Jesus Christ, and seek for continued revelation, and the Holy Ghost will testify unto you the truth of all things. As President Nelson asked, let us each ask ourselves, “How will we be different?” We have been taught and inspired by the Lord’s servants on the earth today, now let us go and do.

Relief Society

This past month has been amazing with everyone donating to many different organizations.

We want to thank all of our ward sisters for their generous donations to the “Just Serve”. In September, our Stake Relief Society encouraged us to make donations to sisters who just needed a towel, a brush, a pad and a pair of socks. We donated a 100 bags of needed items to many sisters who are in need.

We also want to thank you for all the donations for “Team Claire - Primary Children’s Hospital for Childhood Cancer Awareness”. We thank Elizabeth Fullmer for sharing her personal insights and organizing to help other children with cancer. She had a huge number of boxes that will delight many of young children with educational fun things to do.

We appreciate all your help for many others in our ward who have been blessed by your kindness of meals and love. It warms our hearts when we see people eye to eye to eye and knee to knee. I always notice that we love each one more, when we spend the time to get to know them.

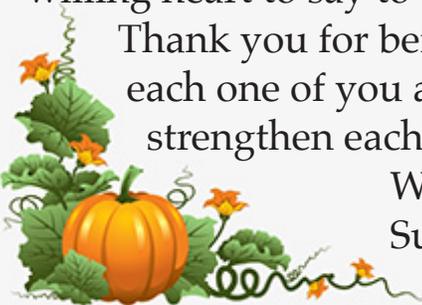

We want to thank you for your donations for Food Drive for many hungry families in our community. Many bags of food were collected and appreciated.

I enjoy reading in our Indian Ridge Sister Facebook account where so many offer extra produce and advice for help for their homes. It is super helpful to reach out and find that others are connected this way. Sisters put out a question and get a fast answer for their problem, even help to find the bunny that was lost this last week.

In our October Conference, Sharon Eubank’s talk, “I Pray That He’ll Use Us” said “Prayers are answered ... most of the time ... by God using other people. Well, I pray that He’ll use us. I pray that we’ll be the answer to people’s prayers. Our individual efforts don’t necessarily require money or faraway locations; they do require the guidance of the Holy Spirit and a willing heart to say to the Lord, ‘Here am I; send me.’”

Thank you for being a great example of Christ-like service. We love each one of you and are grateful for you. May the Lord continue to strengthen each one of us and bless us to HEAR HIM.

We love you all,
Susan, Chyrrel, Keesha and Marilynn

A Note from the Primary

A Message From The Friend.

Temples are houses of the Lord. They are holy places where we learn about Heavenly Father's plan and make covenants (promises) with Him. In the temple, we can be baptized for those who have died and be sealed to our families forever.

"You can learn to love the temple now. Some of you have pictures of temples in your homes. Many of you can visit temple grounds. Some may even be able to attend open houses when temples are built. Because of the temple, we have the hope that we can live with our families forever."

—President Henry B. Eyring

A message from our Missionaries:

Over this last weekend, we had the opportunity to watch General Conference. For both of us, this was our first time watching General Conference as missionaries! We loved every talk but we especially loved Elder Steve Nash's Talk from the Saturday Evening Session. At the end of his talk he gave a simple, yet powerful invitation. 'Share the Gospel!' Missionary Work starts with the members (you guys)! As you build your relationships with friends, neighbors, and even your family, you will find opportunities to share the Gospel with them. Our responsibility as missionaries is to assist the members in this great cause! As you share the Gospel with others, you will have an increase in joy, and you will see continuous blessings in your life!

With Love,
The Missionaries
